

CLUB MEETING HELD AT MUESSEL SCHOOL

Games Are Big Feature of the Program and Everybody is Participant.

If you are not young, be young, no matter what it costs, was the motto at the Muesel school last night, when the first meeting of the Mussel School Civic club was held. The members were told they were there to have a good time and everyone worked hard to do as they were told.

Games in which the men and the women took part were big features of the evening. There was singing for everybody and the object of the club was explained fully by F. B. Barnes. He said that every person in the community had a right of part ownership in the schools and urged all of them to participate freely in the various enjoyments that will be afforded by the club this winter.

The children from five to nine years were entertained in the kindergarten by songs, stories, games, and plays under the care of Miss Amelia Ware. The girls about 12 years were in room 6, under Mrs. F. B. Barnes, who gave them an outline of the work that they must do if they take up the work of Campfire Girls. She has the work divided into different classes, which are gained by work by the girls. The divisions are: Wood-gathers, fire makers, and torch bearers.
