

ASK GUESTS TO LAST CAMPFIRE

Will List Awards at Stone Lake Gathering.

Parents and friends of girls at the closing week of Camp Fire session of Camp Mishawaka, Stone lake, Indiana, near White Pigeon, Mich., have been invited by Miss Ruby V. Perkins, camp director, to attend a final council fire there Friday night.

Theme of the ceremony will be comradeship. Prior to the council fire, during which awards for the week will be announced, handi-craft work done during the last period will be exhibited.

Two cabins located outside the camp "quad" and housing a group of older Camp Fire girls have been named "Freneer Village," a combination of the names of the individual cabins, "A Friend" and "Engineers." The "village" has been landscaped and a sign bearing the name has been erected.

Campers observed "Chink day" today. Scheduled for tonight were a supper hike and treasure hunt. A score of parents and friends of the girls attended a circus program at the lake Wednesday night. A parade was held and each of the 10 cabins presented a side show. A prize for the most original went to the Masonic cabin while honors for the funniest skit were divided between the North-side cabin and those two occupied by the older girlss.
